

Current Issues in Hematopathology

We are pleased to present the First Beaumont Pathology Seminar: Current Issues in Hematopathology. This year's seminar will be held at the Detroit Marriott Troy Hotel.

The symposium provides significant opportunities for professional education, networking and resource building for registrants. You should strongly consider attending if you are a community pathologist or an oncologist and are interested in learning about this fast-paced specialty of clinical laboratory science. We are pleased to bring you these excellent educational opportunities at modest registration fees, thanks to our commercial exhibitors.

Lunch will be provided. Exhibits will be open where you can learn of new products and services that are available to enhance your practice.

We hope that you will make the time to join us.
